

Supplementary Figure 10: Images of sections taken with a confocal microscope of the activated carbon particles used for FISH assays and that show the microbial stratification developed on them. The blue signal corresponds to the DAPI stain while the white signal corresponds to the surface of the particle. For A) signal corresponds to Geobacter cluster and for B) the red signal corresponds to Eubacteria.