

Figure S1. The experimental setup for flower colour choice experiments. (A) Eight white and eight orange inflorescences were presented on two soil types (red marine-derived soils – B; and pale granite gneiss-derived soils – C). Bee fly individuals were offered choices of orange-white species pairs of Dimorphotheca and Ursinia separately.