The County Committee for Emergency Situations approved on Thursday the request of the Public Health Directorate for the city of Țândărei to be quarantined, the proposal being sent to the Department for Emergency Situations, Ialomița Prefecture announced, quoted by Agerpres.

The decision was made due to the large number of cases of coronavirus infection in the last week and contacts of those in isolation.

"We had the meeting of the County Committee for Emergency Situations, where it was proposed to increase the number of law enforcement officers from Țândărei. We approved 6 mixed police patrols plus gendarmes. They do not respect and have not respected from the beginning, not even the minimum recommendations, nor those at local, county or national level. Today I convened the committee again, at 12 o'clock, and I will propose the quarantine of Țândărei city, considering that there are already 4 dead people. If there are more than 3 cases with an epidemiological link between them, quarantine may be required. They came one by one (no. From abroad), not suddenly. They were taken into the records of DSP, we monitored very carefully, given the specifics of the locality, but if they did not understand to isolate themselves, we ended up in this situation ", said Tonița Manea, prefect of Ialomița county, on România TV.

In Ialomița county, 37 cases of coronavirus infection have been confirmed, 208 people are in quarantine, and 2,429 in self-isolation and are monitored at home.

In one district of the city, called Strachina, four deaths were recorded and it was found that the locals did not comply with the measures imposed by the authorities, leaving the city without any stop. According to Rador, over 800 Roma from Țândărei returned from abroad in the last month and transmitted the new coronavirus to the community.
